

DAVID WANTS HIS FEE

Interesting Sequel to Senatorial Bribery Investigation.

EVANS THREATENS SUIT

CLAIMS JUDGE POWERS PROMISED HIM $1,500.

Racy Story Related By An Ogden Man—Judge Powers Repudiates the Claim, and Tells Evans to Go Ahead and Sue—Candidates Formed a Pool.

According to a story which comes from Ogden, David Evans will shortly bring suit against Judge O. W. Powers for $1,500 as attorney's fees for his services in connection with the law senatorial bribery investigation some months ago.

It will be remembered that along in February last Representative A. A. Law of Cache county brought charges against A. W. McCune, the leading candidate before the legislature for the office of United States senator. These charges resulted in the defeat of Mr. McCune, when his election seemed assured, despite the fact that a majority of the legislative committee appointed to investigate them found Mr. McCune guiltless.

David's Heroism.

During all the long, drawn-out investigation David Evans sat with Law as his counsel. He prosecuted the case with vigor and posed during it all as the "defender of the people's honor" in the presence of money—the kind of great stress upon the fact that he and his client stood alone and without backing in their fight. And he received and evaluated all manner of kinds of compliments and patting on the back for his heroism and self-sacrifice in taking upon himself so hard a task, in opposing himself to the power of the law and the power of the money.

The Secret Is Out.

But now the "true inwardness" of the matter comes to light. It is stated by an Ogden man who offers a position to know whereof he speaks that Mr. Evans asserts that he was promised $1,500 by Judge O. W. Powers, himself a candidate for United States senator, if he would serve in the capacity of counsel for Law in prosecuting the charges against Mr. McCune. It was further stated that Mr. Evans has made a demand upon Judge Powers for a fulfillment of his agreement, but has received no satisfaction. Therefore, the Ogden man asserts, Evans will now sue, and he should take the matter into the courts, and that right soon.

Judge Powers' Denial.

Judge Powers, when questioned concerning the matter, denied that Evans had made any demand for his fee, or that he had employed Evans, or owed him anything. "If he wants to sue," said the judge, "let him go ahead. I understand that he has had a case for some time, and I will be glad to know that he has one at last."

Formed a Pool.

It is understood on other quarters that there were others interested in securing Evans' services besides Judge Powers. The others mentioned in this connection were asserted to be former King, Frank J. Cannon, Henry M. Ryan and others, who were active in opposition to Mr. McCune's election to the United States senate. It is alleged that these gentlemen had pooled their interests and set aside their differences and in the end formed a common object to defeat Mr. McCune, and that they all agreed to share the expense of employing Mr. Evans to appear for them.

But it would appear from the attitude assumed by Mr. Evans now that he regards Judge Powers alone as responsible for the fact that he was not employed by him, and that he proposes to make the judge shell out the cash in payment of the alleged indebtedness. The outcome of the case will be watched with much interest.

FIRST VISIT TO OPHIR MINE

SENATOR CLARK SEES THIS PROPERTY FOR FIRST TIME.

Discusses Amalgamated Copper Company, Which He Intimates, Doesn't Possess the Whole Earth.

Senator W. A. Clark of Montana returned to the Knutsford last evening after a trip to Ophir. He said that he had seen for the first time his property, and together with his mining expert, E. J. Clark of Butte, had thoroughly inspected it. The senator would not state his opinion of the mine.

"I don't care to say anything about the Ophir just now, and I cannot state what I shall do with the mine, as I have not made up my mind. I am now considering the question, and will formulate my plans in a short time. I shall leave here Friday, at 10:30 p. m., for California. And on my way to look after my interests there."

Asked his reasons for not joining the Amalgamated Copper company, or the combine, Senator Clark said:

"I was not solicited to do so, and should have declined had I been asked to manage my own properties in my own manner, and don't allow any one to direct me how to do so. The Amalgamated Copper company is not a trust or combine in the sense of the great combination of the big copper producers of the country. It is only a combination of certain state interests, and is a matter of which I know very little."

TIMID SOULS FLED IN TERROR WHEN THE RIVAL BOSSES MET

Streets of Zion Too Narrow For Colonel Lannan and Committee-men Rogers.

WHEN THE BOSSES CAME TOGETHER.

"Says the ant to the elephant, who are you a-shovin'?"

Never since Brigham Young laid out this city did the streets seem so narrow until Colonel P. Hanna Lannan and Lindsay R. Rogers tried to pass on Main street yesterday. Recently Mark Hanna smashed the civil service rules, and in their mad rush for the pie counter "the well known editor" and Hanna's commission for Utah got their wires badly crossed. In fact, it is felt by many anxious hearts that the colonel's wire was cut. This made the meeting yesterday highly dramatic. Timid souls closed their windows as the belligere approached, and a boy was seen to climb a telephone pole near by, willing to swear that for an instant the sky grew dark and the earth trembled. The two stood face to face. The colonel's hat was clenched behind his back. Rogers' chin protruded at an angle of 45 degrees, but no blow was struck. The wires spoken are recorded only in the lamb's book of life. The graptophone played "Comrades," the busy throng pressed forward and the crisis was past.
